GIDEONS MEETING BEGINS TONIGHT

Christian Traveling Man's Organization Convenes Here.

Will Hold Services in All of the Churches of City Tomorrow.

TO ORGANIZE PADUCAH CAMP

The rally of the Gideons, an organization of Christian traveling men, takes place this evening and throughout Sunday, and will be an event of unique and special interest to the church going public. The rally is for the purpose of organizing in Paducah the fifth Kentucky "camp" of the organization, and a number of men from over Kentucky, some from Indiana and National Organizer Charles H. Palmer, of Chicago, will be present.

The Gideons are only five years old as a Christian organization, yet now number over 3,000. It is composed entirely of Christian traveling men, who wear as a button a representation of a pitcher such as Gideon's famous band used in the fall of Jericho. Aside from the help they are able to render their fellow drummers who are so much tempted, the Gideons have been of special value in special evangelistic movements. They are one of the most virile, and energetic of religious organizations.

National Organizer Palmer, of Chicago, will speak three times Sunday, in the morning at the First Baptist church, in the afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. and in the evening at the First Presbyterian church. He is a speaker of great power and effectiveness and will no doubt be heard with great pleasure.

The only event for this evening is at the First Baptist church, where C. A. Duncan will act as moderator, and camp No. 5 will be organized at 8 p. m. Following this there will be a camp fire.

Tomorrow the visitors will be distributed in the various churches of Paducah.

Short service at all the churches at 7:30 p. m. and the general union service at Broadway 8:30 p. m., addressed by Charles H. Palmer.

MUCH INTEREST IS TAKEN IN WIRING

The Question Now is Will it Effect the "Pink Slip."

Some Seem to Think That The Wiring Must Be Done Properly Before Slip Comes Off.

INSPECTOR STILL BUSY

The work of Special Inspector C. O. Bassett, of Chicago, who is looking over the electric wiring in Paducah, has not yet been finished. He finds much bad wiring. Either because some one doesn't know or doesn't care, the wiring in some instances has been such that it would not be tolerated a moment in a city of any size, where there is some one to keep watch over such things.

There is a difference of opinion among insurance men as to what will be the result of the inspector's report. Some say that until the wiring has been made to conform to the proper rules, the pink slip will remain on all policies. Others say that the pink slip will be removed when the city has complied with the original recommendations of the underwriters association, but that rates will be raised on every building separately in which defective wiring has been discovered and ordered removed and replaced in the proper manner and the order has not been complied with.

"We don't believe that the pink slip will have to remain on all policies because some property owners may not have the electric wiring done over," said a prominent insurance man today. "Of course there should be no defective wiring anywhere, but if one man has his house wired correctly and his neighbor doesn't it looks as if it would be an injustice to keep the pink slip on his policy because his neighbor had failed to do what was asked. Still, the defective wiring in one man's house may jeopardize a whole block, or a whole section, for that matter, and thus make the risk of an insurance company greater."

WEEKS NEWS IN BUSINESS WORLD

Bank clearings for week, $740,932
Last year, 783,225
Decrease, 66,707

Business has been generally good the past week, partly because the spring trade is just beginning to boom, and partly because it was the first of the month. There is the usual activity, but it is expected that the coming week will witness a big increase in trade. Very few farmers are coming to the city at present on account of being busy at home. Retail and wholesale trade are both improving.

The weekly tobacco report of Inspector Ed Miller is as follows:
Week ending May 6, 1904.

WON THEIR POINT
Paducah Men Call on General Manager Thomas at Nashville.

He Assures Them That His Road Will Handle the Carnival Company.

Messrs. G. R. Davis and L. A. Lagomarsino left last night for Nashville, Tenn., to confer with President Thomas, of the N. C. & St. L. railroad, relative to transporting the Mundy Carnival company from Paducah to Chattanooga. The company goes there from here, and the N. C. & St. L. is the only direct road, has refused to carry the company.

Paducah merchants and others have united in a petition to the road to reopen the matter and haul the company, but it is not known what effect this will have. It is not known why the roads refused to carry the company. Local officials did not know, but thought it was because the company refused to pay the rates.

This morning a long distance telephone message was received from Mr. Lagomarsino, stating that President Thomas, of the N. C. & St. L. had after hearing them acceded to the requests of the merchants and other citizens of Paducah, and would handle the train. He stated that it was his desire to favor the people of Paducah in every possible way, and that on account of their request, he would countermand the order, waive all objections, and handle the carnival company out of Paducah to Chattanooga. This will be good news to the people of Paducah, for unless the Mundy company could arrange to get the N. C. & St. L. to Chattanooga out of Paducah, it would have been unable to come here for the carnival, and in all probability the carnival could not have been held. It is all settled now, however, and the Paducah delegation will return tonight.

GIVES $100 FOR INJURY TO EYES

Verdict Returned Today in the Loftin Case.

Electric Light Globe Burst in Girl's Face—Other Circuit Court News.

POLICE COURT DOCKET.

Stella Loftin, who was injured about the face and eyes by the bursting of an electric light globe at the Forked Deer Pants Co. several months ago, was given a verdict for $100 damages in circuit court this morning. She sued for $5,000.

She was employed in the factory of the Forked Deer Pant Co. as seamstress at one of the machines and an electric light globe struck a piece of revolving machinery and burst. Fragments flew into her eyes and her face was badly cut.

Her sight was not permanently impaired however. The case of Lena Maude Flint against the I. C. railroad was given to the jury at press time. She is a young girl caught on the trestle and injured by the freight train in the Dawson picnic. The case of Rouff Bros. against L. E. Lam was dismissed without prejudice.

POLICE COURT.
Tee Mack, a 17 year old negro boy who a few days ago gave himself up to the police for malicious shooting, was held over under a $200 bond this morning and fined $50 and costs and given 25 days in jail for carrying concealed weapons.

He shot at Gus Williams, colored, a boy just a little larger than himself because he thought Williamson had taken a three for a nickel cigar away from him. Three shots were fired at a close range but none took effect. William Whitefield, colored, was held in the sum of $500 for shooting at William Owens and fined $50 and sentenced to ten days in jail for carrying a pistol.

Walter Carman, colored, was held over and recognized in the sum of $150 for shooting Ed Keeling and Charles Majors, and fined $25 and costs and sentenced to ten days in jail for carrying concealed weapons.

Charles Majors, colored, breach of the peace, dismissed.
Ed Keeling's case was continued.

Jim Williams and William Owens, colored, fined $20 and costs each for fighting and the case against Charles Birtle and Ed Houston, colored, dismissed.
The vagrancy charge against Martin Eubanks, colored, dismissed.
The breach of the peace charge against Ollie Cox, white, left open.

AFTER MANY YEARS.
OLD PADUCAH WHARF BOAT WILL BE SOLD.

It is announced that the Fowler-Crumbaugh upper wharfbow is for sale, and Monday when the new wharf sent here from St. Louis by the St. Louis and Tennessee River Packet Co., is brought down and moored in place of the upper Fowler wharf, the old wharf will be towed to the bank and laid up until a purchaser can be found. The wharf has done service in Paducah for many years, for more years in fact, than many citizens are old.

EXPERT WILL RUN THE STREET ROLLER

Board of Public Works Sends for a Capable Man.

He Will Be Sent Here by the Factory and Run the Machine This Summer.

IS EXPECTED HERE TODAY

The board of public works of Paducah has found the street roller such a valuable auxiliary in repairing the streets that it will have an expert here to operate it. When the roller was purchased by the Republican council, a man from the factory came here and made streets with it that lasted for several years without scarcely any repairs. During the term of the Republican council a competent man was in charge of the roller all the time, but afterwards the Democrats did all they could to ruin the roller. It was called a "white elephant" and other names, and was run into ditches, into the river, was broken, burned out, the top burned off, and nearly everything else done to it. The principle reason was that no competent man was ever in charge of it, and it gradually drifted into disuse until it was discarded entirely and left in a shed to moulder away. Instead of availing itself of the roller's practical and effectual work, the city had its alleged gravel spread with a shovel, and "rolled" by the passing wheels of vehicles and hoofs of horses.

The board of public works has resurrected the rollers and being up-to-date men they realize its usefulness. They have already saved the city a great deal of money and paved some of the streets in excellent condition, especially Jefferson, and so pleased are they with the results that they have written to the factory to send them an expert to operate the roller this summer, and he is expected today. It is understood his name is Harrison, and that he will make streets with the roller that will open the eyes of the people to the wanton extravagance for the past several years of public officials, when the roller could have been used to such good advantage and wasn't.

It cannot yet be determined whether or not there will be any delay in Paducah because of the burning of the brick plant at Louisville. It is understood that the factory will be ready to resume in about six weeks. There are a great many thousand bricks in Paducah, but many of them will be rejected. Those with only small chips off them, according to the city engineer, will be accepted, but those that are chipped or broken to any extent will not be. It seems that a great many of them are broken to take a casual look at them as they are stacked on the streets and the more rejected the more will be required to complete the job, and it may be the factory will be unable to supply the contractor in time.

The work of laying concrete on South Third street was suspended yesterday by order of the city inspector, Mr. George Gardner, because the gravel was not clean. Engineer Washington states that the gravel was all right itself, but had mud mixed with it, and it should be washed. The proper kind of gravel, it is understood, will be secured today or Monday.

Cincinnati, May 7.—Kate Sanders, the woman who drowned her infant at the Zoo here Thursday was arrested this morning at her home in Cedar Creek, Owen county, Kentucky. She made a full confession and implicated a man at Zenia, O., for whom she worked as a domestic. She will be brought to Cincinnati for trial.

NO SPRINKLING IN PADUCAH THIS YEAR

Board of Public Works is Investigating the Project.

Desire to Adopt a System—Louisville Judge Holds Must Be Special Tax.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT PLANT

The board of public works still has under advisement the matter of sprinkling the streets. It is the opinion of at least some of the members that there should be some system of street sprinkling, and there is a proposition to sprinkle all the streets in the city on which there are street car tracks for $300 a month.

The board has written away to other cities to ascertain the cost and how it is apportioned. Of course all the streets in the city cannot be sprinkled. All the streets in no city are, but there are a number that should be sprinkled every day in dry weather.

The prospects for any sprinkling this year, however, are apparently not very good. Louisville attempted to take $15,000 from the general fund of the tax levy with which to sprinkle the streets and the matter was taken into the court.

Judge Shackelford Miller day before yesterday rendered an opinion in the case, holding that the statutes give a city the right to levy a special fund for street sprinkling purposes, and that if it is not done the city cannot draw money for the purpose from the general fund.

Judge Miller says:

"Under Section 2981 Kentucky Statutes the sprinkling of streets is one of the 15 specified purposes for which the defendant may levy a tax; and when levied for that purpose it cannot be used for any of the other purposes. Kentucky Statutes 2980. The city may and has levied a tax of 36 and a quarter cents upon each $100 worth of property for 'general purposes' for 1904, but has levied no tax for sprinkling of streets. Can it use a part of the fund raised for 'general purposes' for street sprinkling? I think not; since it seems to me that the 'general purposes' for which that levy may be made are those purposes only which are of a public municipal nature, and not of the specific purposes for which a separate levy may be made by the general council. If the city can, under the charter above quoted, apply a part to the 'general purpose' fund to any one of the other specific purposes, then there is no necessity of specifying any particular purpose, but the whole levy of $1.86 may be levied for 'general purposes' and applied at the pleasure of the general council to any specific purpose. It was precisely this practice that the charter was intended to guard against. Demurrer to petition will be overruled and motion for injunction will be sustained.

If this opinion is correct Paducah can do no sprinkling this year, as no special tax was levied for it, and there exists no right to use money from any other fund.

Superintendent Keebler, of the city electric light plant, stated this afternoon that he had furnished the board of public works with the report asked on the capacity of the city electric light plant, and that with the report he had recommended no more lights be added to the circuit now supplied by the city wires.

"We have as many lights as we can well handle," he declared, "and if we string any more onto the circuit, will probably interfere with the system. The bearings in hot weather run warm and may not keep the lights going, and rather than to have several lights out in different portions of the city, and to avoid running the machines, I deem it best not to force any more lights on the circuit."

This means that the petitions in the council for lights will hereafter have to be turned down, as the board of public works will not overtax the light plant, but will wait until next year, when the appropriation time rolls around, and make provisions for increased facilities.

—Frank Johnson, a well known colored porter, formerly at the saloon at Fourth and Kentucky, and later at Rodfus', died of consumption at Seventh and Adams street, and was buried today. He was 27 years old.

MARVELOUS

INVENTIONS OF TODAY THAT TAX THE MOST GENIUS MIND.

One of the most serious and interesting inventions at the St. Louis World's fair will be the baby incubators, which will be displayed with the great Mandy shows in Paducah week of May 16.

Words can hardly express the admiration one feels toward the man who could conceive such an ingenious and intricate piece of mechanism.

The baby incubator belongs to the innermost realm of science. They should be treated as an exhibit of the greatest attainment of medical science, which has constructed a substitute for the human mother.

Mothers should be interested in the wonderful incubators which give life where nature has failed. A marvelous apparatus so constructed as to provide the last chance which the mother could not positively give; an automaton made of silver and glass and run by machinery a continuance of which gives absolute rest, perfect condition of air and temperature and a chance for artificial nourishment to a mite of human flesh that could not stand the rigor of a gust of summer breeze.

Giving a more concise description, the baby incubator is an angular receptacle made of silver and glass to take the place of the organs of the body, which have been elected from their helpless occupants before their time.

The construction is wonderful, yet beautiful in its simplicity.

Imagine one of the marvelous little homes, with its mighty tenant, a human mind, a human soul that otherwise might be lost to the world. They are elaborately built and imperviously sealed against air and moisture.

The infant is comfortably clothed in cloths of downy flannel, showing the cupid like countenance and diminutive dimensions.

Perhaps the onlooker sees nothing but the slumbering baby and wonders at its tiny proportions, but the more careful the visitor inspects the apparatus, with its flues and wheels, and thermometers to denote the temperature, and a thermostat which is automatic, so that the chances of innocent subject for life does not depend on the watchfulness of the attendant.

So effectively these delicate pieces of silver and glass do their work is evidenced at Paris where hundreds of infants were saved from inanition to robust health.

Mr. P. J. Munday has secured this excellent attraction at great expense and no mother should miss the opportunity of seeing this most wonderful and marvelous invention of the age.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Garrison have returned from Illinois where they had been on a visit.

Thacher Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Dear Sirs—"I received your sample bottle of Liver and Blood Syrup, and after taking it according to directions I felt so much better that I bought a 50-cent bottle and finished taking it with the most excellent results.

"When I sent for the sample I was not able to sit up all day; my liver and kidneys were very much out of order. I was badly constipated and had frequent attacks of dizziness.

"I am now able to do my work, and know that your medicine does all that is claimed for it.

"You may publish this letter, and I will gladly praise your Liver and Blood Syrup to any sufferers."

"At this writing I can truthfully say that I feel better than I have in the past ten years, and I believe that if everyone would use Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup they would save both money and health."

Yours very truly, J. C. CALDWELL.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR WOMEN

Women have confidence in Wine of Cardui because they know it is the best medicine in the world for the troubles peculiar to their sex.

Women are grateful to Wine of Cardui because it frees them from menstrual disorders—because it is a certain cure for bearing down pains, leucorrhoea, the distress of childbirth and the dangers which lurk in the change of life.

Women love Wine of Cardui because it brings children to barren homes.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui is a mild medicine—so mild that a child can take it without any possible harm. But it is a powerful tonic, freeing women from pain when all other remedies fail. It regulates the menstrual function so naturally that there is no pain. Opiates and drastic medicines kill the pain temporarily by killing the nerves, but Wine of Cardui destroys the pain by building up the nerves and preventing a return of the pain in an aggravated form.

Wine of Cardui so builds up women that it makes them fit for any duty. Over 1,500,000 women have been cured of female weakness and suffering and have been restored to health and the enjoyment of life by Wine of Cardui. Will you take the same treatment and secure the same relief? A trial of the treatment will show you what Wine of Cardui will do. Go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui. You can have health.

Wine of Cardui has been a blessing to my home. I have found that it is a great relief.

TENNIS.

She was a novice at the game
And he an ardent teacher
Then mischief Cupid slyly came To tempt the lovely creature.

"Oh, Jack, don't bother more with me—
I fear I'm far too stupid."

And on the court in heartless glee Chuckled triumphant Cupid.

"Success were certain, Mabel, dear,
If we shared our joys and troubles."
What Mabel said I failed to hear:
They've entered in the doubles.

TENNIS POPULAR.

The Y. M. C. A. tennis courts on Kentucky avenue near Seventh street are extremely popular and are growing more so every day. In the morning from 6:30 until 10 and in the afternoon from 4 to 7 the pleasure grounds are a scene of activity, and games are constantly in progress on all three of the courts. HOPELESS DEMOCRACY.

As is fittingly recognized by the Democrats themselves, the Republicans are not afraid of any Democrat, either those mentioned for president or those who may hereafter be.

No Democrat, unless it be Cleveland, could secure the assistance of any part of the financial and business interests of the country, and Cleveland could not get the support of his own party. Parker, as already obvious, could do little better than Cleveland and Hill, who are pushing his candidacy, and Olney—well, here is what Mr. Bryan says of him in today's Commoner:

"The Massachusetts Democrats declare they have the ideal candidate for the presidential nomination, and they ask the country to accept their assurance that he is all right in every particular.

"To prevent any disappointment before the convention, the Massachusetts Democrats take the precaution to draw the veil over his (Olney's) views, a futile precaution, for in his New York speech, proposing Mr. Cleveland's renomination, Mr. Olney, the Massachusetts candidate, gave to the country a clear understanding as to the kind of president he himself would make. "There is only one political doctrine to which the Massachusetts platform distinctly refers, and that is no longer an issue. It commends Mr. Olney's position on the Venezuelan controversy with England. As this has been endorsed by all political parties it can no more be made a campaign issue than could the nation's position in the war of 1812.

"The New York convention presented no issue at all; the Massachusetts convention suggests an issue that was settled ten years ago, and the next reorganizer convention might content itself with passing a resolution commending the discovery of America."

Senator Gorman can hardly be considered even a possibility. His attitude on the Panama canal, which the south favors, seems to have temporarily, at least, put an end to his presidential aspirations. He has lost control of even his own state.

Mr. Hearst would find arrayed against him the gigantic commercial interests of the country irrespective of politics, just as Mr. Bryan did. His friends claim he would get the labor vote, but he wouldn't. In the thickly populated centers, where there are hundreds of thousands of laboring men, the Republican majority would be increased. Why? Because the laboring men realize that if a policy, a platform, or a political party is inimical to the interests of their employers, it is inimical to their own. That if it were not dangerous to the interests of their employers, their employers would not oppose it. Workingmen are not fools. Some of them are easily led astray by the alluring pictures painted by the eloquent Democratic or Socialistic demagogue, but a vast majority of them who realize that their trade is, and must always be their livelihood, because they are too old to try new pursuits, have too much sense to support or vote for any political party whose policy will militate against the interests of their employer, and by crippling his business deprive them of the means of earning a living. Mr. Hearst might do almost as well as Mr. Bryan, but he could do no better—and Mr. Bryan made two of the most colossal failures on record.

The Republican party is the party of the people and under the leadership of President Theodore Roosevelt it will this year wage a clean, effective warfare and score the greatest in its long succession of victories.

The prospects are that there will be no strike of Southwest Kentucky miners. The matter has been left to the miners themselves, who in being asked to cast their votes are told that a strike will mean a desperate fight to preserve the organization, and that on account of the lack of funds the miners will be left largely to their own resources.

It certainly was very kind in the mayor to object to the repeal of an ordinance that had never been enforced. One element is satisfied because the law was a dead letter, and there is perhaps a crumb of comfort to the other fellows in the mayor's tactful "veto" of the repeal. But the mayor always did "tote a little on both shoulders."

The Democratic papers are perhaps wise in waxing facetious over the report that President Roosevelt may conduct his own campaign. If he does it will be the liveliest the Democrats ever stacked up against and they should have their laugh now. They won't feel like it after it starts.

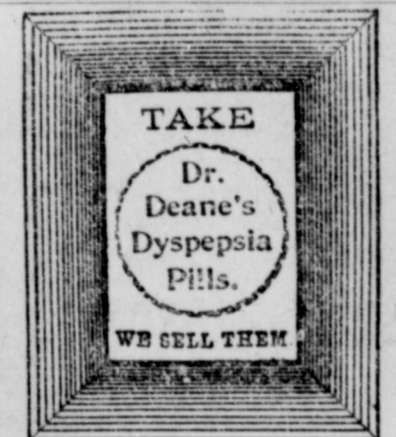

If the whole administration were like the board of public works Paducah would soon be the largest and most attractive city in Kentucky outside of Louisville. Credit should be given those to whom it is, due and there is nothing thus far due the board of public works except praise.

Why not dispense with some of this red tape and appoint the sanitary inspectors? Paducah is getting into a fearful condition and there is no reason there should be longer delay. The appointments are already over a month behindhand.

Something should be done to the city hall clock. It has been striking wrong for the past week or ten days, and is still striking wrong, despite the kicks that have been registered against it. Has the city no one to tend to it?

It is not clear why Colonel Watterson and Governor Beckham should have buried the hatchet. Neither was doing the other any harm.

An Evansville paper hit the nail on the head when it stated that Paducah was building brick streets—"a brick at a time."

WAS EASY VICTORY FOR PADUCAH BOYS

Defeated Poplar Bluff by Score 14 to 5.

Hard and Effective Hitting Did the Work for the Indians.

The Paducah K. I. T. league baseball team defeated the Poplar Bluff team yesterday afternoon at Wallace park by a score of 14 to 5, heavy hitting on the part of the locals being a feature of the game.

The game started at 3:30 with a fair size crowd in attendance, and Paducah led off by making four runs in the first inning. Poplar Bluff failed to tally at all until the fourth inning when a run was made on Barlow's misjudgment of a high fly to center field. In the first of the ninth inning the visitors had two men to walk and on two hits and a few errors managed to tally four runs, making their total of 5 for the game. After the first inning Paducah players made one score in the second, two in the fourth, three in the sixth and four in the eighth.

The hitting for Paducah was done by Barlow, Myers, Virgils, Potts, Girard and Land. Land got two doubles and one single out of five times up and Potts got one single and a double out of four times up.

The hitting done by the visitors is credited to Green, Keene, Hynes, Wallace and Dougherty.

The summary:

Paducah, 14 11 27 12 8

Poplar Bluff, 5 5 24 23 10

Batteries, Brabie and Land, Paducah; Bandy and Dougherty, Poplar Bluff.

Freeman will pitch for Paducah today and Hynes for the visitors. This will be a pitchers' battle.

Brabie struck out six men yesterday while Bandy struck out none. The manager of the visitors claimed it was an off day with them.

The Cairo Bulletin, whose news is written by Secretary Farnbaker, of the K. I. T. league, says of the meeting held here:

"Mr. Jackson stated that the schedule suited him, but in view of the burning of his grand stand he wished the league to transfer the games scheduled at Paducah with Vincennes on May 17, 18 and 19 to the latter city and in return desired that the games scheduled at Vincennes with Paducah July 3, 4 and 5 be transferred to this city. As an inducement Mr. Jackson offered to divide the entire grand stand receipts with Vincennes. The proposition was eminently fair and the league unanimously ordered the transfer.

The argument over Long threatens to engender bad feelings between Henderson and Paducah and possibly may lead to serious results. If reports are true, that Long accepted advance money from Henderson and then jumped, he will be disqualified and cannot play with either.—Cairo Bulletin.

"By agreement the games scheduled at Hopkinsville with Cairo on July 3, 4 and 5, and Sunday, August 7, were transferred to Cairo. Several other Sunday games were transferred and the matter was settled satisfactorily to all parties concerned."

President Sam Jackson has ordered all lumber and material for rebuilding the grand stand and work will certainly begin Monday. An extra large force of carpenters will be put to work to erect the stand.

A County Commissioner's Letter.
Hon. John Williams, County Commissioner, of 517 West Second street, Duluth, Minn., says the following in regard to Peruna:

"As a remedy for catarrh I can cheerfully recommend Peruna. I know what it is to suffer from that terrible disease and I feel that it is my duty to speak a good word for the tonic that brought me immediate relief. Peruna cured me of a bad case of catarrh and I know it will cure any other sufferer from that disease."—John Williams.

Construction of the ALASKA

THE ALASKA REFRIGERATOR is constructed with a view to giving its user long and satisfactory service. The outside case is made of thoroughly kiln-dried ash lumber, which is machined by skilled mechanics and the various parts are assembled by thoroughly practical and skilled mechanics in this branch of construction. The inside of the case is made of an odorless matched wood and the space between the outer and inner walls is lined with charcoal sheathing and thoroughly packed with ground charcoal, which insures a sweet, odorless wall and at the same time is a perfect non-conductor of heat and cold, making a perfect insulation.

The peculiar construction of the Alaska avoids all possibility of the charcoal settling in the walls, thus insuring perfect insulation after years of service.

The use of white hard maple (commonly known as sugar maple) for ice racks will be continued for the season 1904.

The interior construction is such that there is a constant circulation of air, insuring an even, cold, dry temperature in the provision chamber at all times.

The zinc linings are highly polished and all goods are carefully inspected before being crated.

The goods are finished in a most careful manner and with a view to retaining a bright and pleasing effect. We use only the best grade of varnish for the finishing coat.

The Alaska Trap is placed inside the provision chamber at the bottom, and is easily reached through the provision chamber door, making it a very easy matter to remove for cleaning purposes.

We guarantee every refrigerator we sell to be entirely satisfactory in every respect.

The Filigree Ball

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN,
Author of "The Mystery of Agatha Webb," "Lost Man's Lane," Etc.

Copyright, 1903, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"I cannot remember who it was. My brain is whirling, and I can recollect nothing but that this man and myself left the cemetery together on the night mentioned, just as the gate was being closed. As it closes at sundown, the hour can be fixed to a minute. It was somewhere near 7, I believe; near enough, I am sure, for it to have been impossible for me to be at the Moore house at the time my unhappy wife is supposed to have taken her life. There is no doubt about your believing this?" he demanded with sudden haughtiness, as, rising to his feet, he confronted us in all the pride of his exceptionally handsome person.

"We wish to believe it," assented the coroner, rising in his turn. "That our belief may become certainty will you let us know, the instant you recall it, the name of the man you talked with at the cemetery gate? His testimony, far more than any word of yours, will settle this question which otherwise may prove a vexed one."

Jeffrey tells his story

Mr. Jeffrey's hand went up to his head. Was he acting a part or did he really forget just what it was for his own best welfare to remember? If he had forgotten, it argued that he was in a state of greater disturbance on that night than would naturally be occasioned by a mere lover's quarrel with his wife.

Did the same thought strike my companion? I cannot say; I can only give you his next words:

"You have said that your wife would not be likely to end her life in presence of any one but yourself. Yet you must see that some one was with her. How do you propose to reconcile your assertions with a fact so undeniable?"

"I cannot reconcile them. It would madden me to try. If I thought any one was with her at that moment—"

"Well?"

Mr. Jeffrey's eyes fell, and a startling change passed over him. But before either of us could make out just what this change betokened he recovered his aspect of fixed melancholy and quietly remarked:

"It is dreadful to think of her standing there alone, aiming a pistol at her young, passionate heart, but it is worse to picture her doing this under the gaze of unsympathizing eyes. I cannot and will not so picture her. You have been misled by appearances or what in police parlance is called a 'clew.'"

Evidently he did not mean to admit the possibility of the pistol having been fired by any other hand than her own. This the coroner noted. Bowing with the respect he showed every man before a jury had decided upon his guilt, he turned toward the door out of which I had already hurried.

"We hope to hear from you in the morning," he called back significantly as he stepped down the stairs.

Mr. Jeffrey did not answer; he was having his first struggle with the new and terrible prospect awaiting him at the approaching inquest.

CHAPTER XI.

THE days of my obscurity were over. Henceforth I was regarded as a decided factor in this case—a case which from this time on assumed another aspect both at headquarters and in the minds of people at large. The reporters, whom we had hitherto managed to hold in check, now overflooded both the coroner's office and police headquarters, and articles appeared in all the daily papers with just enough suggestion in them to fire the public mind and make me, for one, anticipate an immediate word from Mr. Jeffrey calculated to establish the alibi he had failed to make out on the day we talked with him. But no such word came. His memory still played him false, and no alternative was left but to pursue the official inquiry in the line suggested by the interview just recounted.

No proceeding in which I had ever been engaged interested me as did this inquest. In the first place, the spectators were of a very different character from the ordinary. As I worked myself along to the seat accorded to such witnesses as myself I brushed by men of the very highest station and a few of the lowest and bent my head more than once in response to the inquiring gaze of some fashionable lady who never before, I warrant, had found herself in such a scene. By the time I reached my place all the others were seated, and the coroner rapped for order.

I was first to take the stand. What I said has already been fully amplified in the foregoing pages. Of course, my evidence was confined to facts, but some of these facts were new to most of the persons there. It was evident that a considerable effect was produced by them, not only on the spectators, but upon the witnesses themselves. For instance, it was the first time that the marks on the mantelshelf had been heard of outside the major's office or the story so told as to make it evident that Mrs. Jeffrey could not have been alone in the house at the time of her death.

A photograph had been taken of those marks, and my identification of this photograph closed my testimony.

As I returned to my seat I stole a look toward a certain corner where, with face bent down upon his hand, Francis Jeffrey sat between Uncle David and the heavily veiled figure of Miss Tuttle.

I was followed by the other detectives who had been present at the time and who corroborated my statement as to the appearance of this unhappy woman and the way the pistol had been tied to her arm. Then the doctor who had acted under the corner was called. After a long and no doubt learned description of the bullet wound which had ended the life of this unhappy lady—a wound which he insisted, with a marked display of learning, must have made that end instantaneous or at least too immediate for her to move foot or hand after it—he was asked if the body showed any other mark of violence.

To this he replied:

"There was a minute wound at the base of one of her fingers, the one which is popularly called the wedding finger."

This statement made all the women present stare with renewed interest; nor was it altogether without point for the men, especially when the doctor went on to say:

"The hands were entirely without rings. As Mrs. Jeffrey had been married with a ring, I noticed their absence."

"Was this wound which you characterize as minute a recent one?"

"It had bled a little. It was an abrasion such as would be made if the ring she usually wore there had been drawn off with a jerk. That was the impression I received from its appearance. I do not state that it was so made."

A little thrill, which went over the audience at the picture this evoked communicated itself to Miss Tuttle, who trembled violently. It even produced a slight display of emotion in Mr. Jeffrey, whose hand shook where he pressed it against his forehead. But neither uttered a sound nor looked up when the next witness was summoned.

This witness proved to be Loretta, who, on hearing her name called, evinced great reluctance to come forward. After the coroner had elicited her name and the position she held in Mr. Jeffrey's household he asked whether her duties took her into Mrs. Jeffrey's room. Upon her replying that they did, he further inquired if she knew Mrs. Jeffrey's rings, and could say whether they were all to be found on that lady's toilet table after the police came in with news of her death. The answer was decisive. They were all there; her rings and all the other ornaments she was in the daily habit of wearing, with the exception of her watch. That was not there.

"Did you take up those rings?"

"No, sir."

"Did you see any one else take them up?"

"No, sir; not till the officer did so."

"Very well, Loretta. Sit down again till we hear what Durbin has to say about these rings."

And then the man I shrank from acknowledging it even to myself, I could but observe how strong and quiet and self-possessed he seemed and how decisive was his testimony.

But it was equally brief. He had taken up the rings and he had looked at them; and on one, the wedding ring, he had detected a slight stain of blood. He had called Mr. Jeffrey's attention to it, but that gentleman had made no comment.

This remark had the effect of concentrating general attention upon Mr. Jeffrey. But he seemed quite oblivious of it; his attitude remained unchanged, and only from the quick stretching out and withdrawal of Miss Tuttle's hand could it be seen that anything had been said calculated to touch or arouse this man. The coroner cast an uneasy glance in his direction; then he motioned Durbin aside and recalled Loretta.

TWO PLUCKY GIRLS FROM OLD KENTUCKY

They Climb a Tree at College and Fly Their Flag.

Crowds Stand by and Cheer the Young Ladies from Blue Grass State.

ONE A PADUCAH GIRL

Kentucky girls won many cheers at an Ohio college last Monday by their daring deed in floating from a tree top the class flag. One of them was a Paducah girl, daughter of Mr. G. W. Crumbaugh, of North Seventh street, and a young lady of great popularity in local society.

It was a May day prank, and a Hamilton, O., dispatch thus describes it:

Hamilton, O., May 2.—The spectacle of two pretty college girls climbing a tall tree at the intersection of High and Beech streets, in the heart of the village, attracted a large and interested crowd of Oxford people this morning.

The heroines of this exploit were Martha Sanford, Newcastle, Ky., and Kate Crumbaugh, Paducah, Ky., both members of the junior class.

The occasion for the episode was the annual May day breakfast of the senior class.

This gave the juniors the idea that the time was opportune for the hoisting of the junior class flag.

While the seniors were at their feast the juniors surrounded the tree, which stands in the corner of the college lawn, and Miss Sanford and Miss Crumbaugh began the ascent.

Meantime a large crowd had collected, which cheered the girls as they shinned up the trunk and hung the flag on one of the topmost branches. They came down in safety.

The seniors saw the flag as soon as they came out, but no member of the class cared to attempt the somewhat perilous feat of taking it down. It still waves in the tree top, a testimonial to the agility and nerve of the two pretty Kentucky girls.

WROTE FROM OHIO

"George, if You Value Your Life, Take Blood Wine."

Could any endorsement be stronger? Could any brother better serve another than to tell him how to avoid the grave? Mrs. Geo. T. Corey of Lowell, Mass., says:

"My brother, who lives in Akron, O., wrote me that he was taking 'Blood Wine,' that it was doing him a world of good, and advised me to try it. I had been very ill with lung trouble for several weeks, and was failing rapidly. My brother was so confident that I would recover if I tried 'Blood Wine' that I finally decided to get a bottle. The very first dose I could feel all through my body, and from that moment I began to overcome the disease. I continued taking it and continued to improve until I was able to say I was well. I have no trouble now with my lungs, and have gained in weight. 'Blood Wine' is an exceptionally meritorious medicine. It seems to supply something in the way of nourishment, besides being healing and soothing."

PARENTHEICAL REMARKS.

A well known Indiana man
One dark night last week
Went to the cellar with a match
In search of a gas leak.
(He found it.)

John Welch by curiosity
(Dispatches state) was goated,
He squinted in his old shotgun
To see if it was loaded.
(It was.)

A man in Macon stopped to watch
A patent cigar clipper;
He wondered if his finger was Not quicker than the nipper.
(It wasn't.)

A Maine man read that human eyes
Of hypnotism were full;
He went to see if it would work
Upon an angry bull.
(It wouldn't.)
—San Francisco Bulletin.

Several youth of the north side have started a miniature city court, according to their parents, and are duplicating the action of the city officials in regard to taking up unlicensed dogs.

Several days ago a well known resident went into his back yard and was surprised to see a small chicken coop affair containing several dogs. He investigated further and on entering the wood shed beheld his son sitting on an old cracker box with a half circle of youngsters about him. He was holding court and they called him Judge Sanders. Another youngster had a paper star on reading "chief of police," he evidently being Chief Collins. Another wore a paper badge roughly lettered "city jailer" and the remaining youngsters were policemen and dog catchers. The prisoner before the bar was one poor little pitiful dog that had been arrested and hauled up for vagrancy. The judge was in the act of delivering his opinion when the father stepped in. The boys made a hasty scamper but were caught and made to reveal their doings, much to the amusement of the parent, who had to tell it to a policeman residing on his square. The boys did not intend to kill the dogs, for they had arrested several neighbors' dogs that had been licensed, but the mimic court seemed to satisfy their hankering desire to "do like grown folks."

"Railroad shops are like a big prison in some respects," a well known railroader declared this morning, as he stood watching the crowd of passengers waiting for their trains.
"I have been working in the shops for many years and from early in the morning until late at night, with only one hour interval at noon, have I labored. Several days ago I was transferred to another position temporarily and where I am enabled to see many people and it is like escaping from jail or getting a holiday."

"The work at the shops, however, is not hard and every one gets along nicely. At times when the weather is inclement the jacking track men and those exposed, are inconvenienced, but those who work in the shops have every convenience and it can't truthfully be said that the railroad company does not show every consideration for its employees. The only objection is the confining work, which often keeps a man from seeing anybody except his family, associates, and neighbors, and from getting farther down than his own home, for months and months at a time."

"It is very noticeable that travel among the poorer class of people is falling off," said an I. C. official this morning, and the only reason I can give is on account of the world's fair in St. Louis.

"There are many people in the poorer class who travel about considerably, only on short trips, of course, but it seems they are now saving all the dollars they can spend at the world's fair. The fair being held so close to this state, a larger number will visit it than under other circumstances or in some city at a greater distance?"

A general falling off of travel on the railroads is reported from other sources, also, and it seems that more people are preparing to visit St. Louis this summer than was expected. This is the first time a world's fair was held so close and few will miss the opportunity of attending if they can possibly scrape together enough money.

Baseball players have their characteristic superstitions, as well as people in other vocations and sometimes they are very amusing. A member of the local team had a bad season several years ago. He started out with thirteen men in the team on the 13th of the month and traveled on a train of thirteen cars. They had been out just thirteen minutes, he alleges, when the train struck a cow and disabled the engine so a delay of over an hour was occasioned, just long enough to make them miss their connections and forfeit the first game. During that season he played only thirteen games, being injured most of the time, and after figuring for some time discovered he had met with thirteen distinct accidents that season. Never again will he start out with thirteen men on the 13th of the month, he says.

It is suggested by the teachers and pupils that some kind of a gymnasium room be arranged at the High school and other school buildings for the girls and boys. The girls' basketball team has to go to the Y. M. C. A. every week to practice and play, and if the schools were provided with some kind of athletic room, it would be a very good feature and one of much benefit. Athletics are recognized now in all colleges and universities as an essential part of educational work, and gymnasiums fitted out in the most elaborate style are found in nearly all colleges. The expense of fitting out a room just for basketball and such indoor sports would be little, and mean much to the pupils.

Money Saving Items in Spring Goods

SPRING is with us at last, but as a result of the backward weather our stock is only about half gone. Hence the under-priced items told of below for next week that should stir up the money wise women of Paducah as never before. Do not hesitate over these, as such extremely unusual specials will not go begging and if you want to be sure of good choice you will take them by the forelock and be on hand early.

Garments

Better values were never brought to Paducah and yet we slice still more off the original figures as a special inducement.
One lot of tailor made suits were $18.00, now $12.00.
All of our $25.00 suits in cloth, woolens and suitings reduced to $16.00.

Dress Goods

A stock that is surprising everybody with the startling worth of the fabrics for such modest prices.
Two pieces of 50 inch Scotch suiting were $1.00, reduced to 75c.
One piece of black Nubbed Voile was $1.00, reduced to 75c.
One piece of 50 inch black wool sacking was $1.00 reduced to 50c.

A Wash Fabric Special

These wash goods should rightfully sell at their full price up to the first of August. Such a course would be justice to ourselves and to you, according to the present high status of the wholesale figures, yet the proper progress of the store demands such prices as we name today to assist in earlier selling.

30 pieces of Lawns, white grounds with Black and colored figures, price 3¼c per yard.

ment than to buy a supply of these
